Feast of All Saints Day Mass,
Wednesday, November 1st.

Dear Brothers and Sisters, In this weekend’s Gospel of Matthew a Pharisee (a lawyer) asks Jesus which of the commandments is the greatest. His response does not seek to set aside the Law, but instead to interpret it more fully. For Jesus, the greatest commandment is found in Deuteronomy 6:5: “You shall love the Lord, your God, with your whole heart, and with your whole being, and with your whole strength.” Jesus’ answer emphasizes the centrality of love, a cord that binds together the human heart and soul and directs us toward God.

While asked for only one commandment, Jesus adds a second, quoting from Leviticus 19:18, which he says is equal to and inseparable from the first: “You shall love your neighbor as yourself.” Everything, he says, hangs on these two interrelated commandments. Like a door on two hinges that will not open or close properly if out of alignment, so, too, our lives if we do not love God and our neighbor.
Jesus is not discounting any other commandments, but simply emphasizing that these two are foundational. Paul confirms this teaching by reminding the Thessalonians of their fidelity to Christ.
He rejoices with them because they have remained steadfast and active in faith. For them, faith is more than a passing fad. Clearly, they have recognized the word of God in Paul’s preaching and through the lived example of their lives, becoming ministers of the Gospel to others within their community and beyond.
Awaiting the return of Christ, they have become people of hope, bringing the combined love of God and neighbor to others. May we, too, be a people of hope, witnessing the Gospel to others and sharing God’s love.

Fr. Steve
